

Discover CIA bases and archaeological wonders

📍 Night Market, Sisavangvong Road, Luang Prabang, Luang Prabang District, Luang Prabang, 06000, Laos

During the Vietnam War, the CIA base in Laos, known as Long Tieng or LS20A, operated as a secretive airfield and military center, housing around 30,000 people, including CIA personnel and Hmong fighters. It played a vital role in fighting communist forces in Laos and North Vietnam, conducting numerous military and logistical operations. Despite its significant contributions, Long Tieng remained secret and off-limits to the public for years. Recently, the base has become accessible for tours, offering insights into its clandestine history and pivotal role in the war.
